BENEFIT OPEN ENROLLMENT: OCT 12 – OCT 30, 2026

Open Enrollment & Eligibility

Annual Open Enrollment is a period of time when you can review, select, and make changes to your benefits. The purpose is to give you the opportunity to choose the benefits that best suit your needs and make any necessary adjustment for the upcoming year.

Everyone is required to participate in Open Enrollment in Paylocity. Benefits will not roll over.

Who is eligible for benefits?

You are eligible for benefits if you are a full-time employee working an average of 30 hours per week.

Eligible dependents include

- Your legal spouse or domestic partner. If your spouse has access to other available health coverage and you elect Employee + Spouse or Employee + Family coverage under this plan, a $100 monthly spouse coverage surcharge will apply.
- Dependent children to age 26.

New hires

Please note: if you (and/or your dependents) have Medicare or will become eligible for Medicare in the next 12 months, a Federal law gives you more choices about your prescription drug coverage.

- Elections will be made online through your Paylocity account.
- For new hires and employees with qualified life events, you will have a 15-day enrollment window.

What's changed? Summary of plan modifications

What's new in 2027

You'll notice no changes to our medical and prescription drug benefits for the upcoming plan year. This Summary of Material Modification ("SMM") will modify some of the information contained in the Summary Plan Description ("SPD") for the Critical Nurse Staffing Welfare Benefit Plan (the "Plan") that describes the Plan as of January 1, 2027.

Note: In the event of any discrepancy between this information and the SPD (Summary Plan Description), the provisions of the SPD will govern.

Deductible

A deductible is the amount of money you'll need to pay for care before your healthcare plan begins to help pay for care. Deductible amounts vary for individuals and families.

Coinsurance

Coinsurance is the percentage of healthcare costs you're responsible to pay for covered care after your deductible has been met. For example, you may pay 30% of costs.

Copayment

A copayment, or copay, is the amount you pay at a doctor's appointment, usually at the time of the visit/service. It is a set amount, like $35 or $40 per visit.

In-Network

A hospital, doctor, medical group, and/or other healthcare provider is considered In-Network when they are contracted with your insurance carrier to provide care at a pre-negotiated cost, usually covering more of the cost.

Out-of-Network

A hospital, doctor, medical group, and/or other healthcare provider is considered Out-of-Network when they are not contracted with your insurance carrier to provide care at a pre-negotiated cost, usually covering some or none of the costs.

Out-of-Pocket Maximum

The Out-of-Pocket Maximum is the max amount you pay for covered care within a plan year. After you reach this amount, your plan pays 100% of the allowable charges for covered services. Copays, deductibles, and coinsurance apply to your maximum.

Medical Plans

CNS Cares offers a choice of 3 medical plans designed to help you and your family maintain good health and financial well-being. Deciding which plan is best for you depends on your specific health care needs, preferences, budget, and lifestyle.

Critical Nurse Staffing has hired UMR, utilizing the United Healthcare network. Medical benefits are administered through UMR, a third-party administrator (TPA), to help ensure that your claims are paid correctly so that your health care cost can be kept to a minimum and you can focus on well-being. UMR is not an insurance company. Providers are contracted with United Healthcare. Maximum benefits are available when services are received from United Healthcare providers. Your network remains as the Choice Plus network.

Where to go for care

When you're feeling sick or are injured, there are several places you can go for medical care:

- Telehealth services
- A doctor's office
- An urgent care center
- A retail health clinic
- The emergency room

Watch the video: where to go for care
https://d3lgvydj16g1oi.cloudfront.net/0041146dff60a5f7a6711fc334345b21/720p.mp4

Start with a Telehealth visit and get care without leaving your house! An appointment with a physician is available from your phone or computer.

Your primary care doctor should be your first call in non-emergency situations. Your doctor knows you and your health history, including what medications you are taking and what chronic conditions might need to be considered in your treatment. Plus, the co-pay for a visit to your doctor's office will cost far less than a trip to the emergency room.

If you can't reach your doctor or need care outside of regular office hours, urgent care centers and retail health clinics are good options. Retail health clinics are walk-in clinics found in many large pharmacies and retail stores. They are staffed by nurse practitioners and physician assistants and are designed to treat simple conditions, like cold and flu, ear infections and skin conditions.

Emergency rooms are designed to treat urgent, acute and life-threatening conditions and aren't the place for routine care or minor ailments. If you feel you are dealing with a health emergency, call 911 or go to the emergency room right away.

What is an EOB?

EOB stands for Explanation of Benefits. This is a document sent to you by your insurance administrator to let you know that a claim has been processed.

The most important thing to remember is that an EOB is NOT a bill, and you should not pay an in-network provider without receiving a matching EOB.

An EOB lets you know which healthcare provider has filed a claim on your behalf, what it was for, whether it was approved, and for how much. You should always review your EOB to make sure it is correct.

Medicare is the federal health insurance program run by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS). Enrollment is handled through the Social Security Administration.

What does Medicare cover?

Medicare has four parts. Each part covers different services.

Part A Hospital Insurance	Helps pay for inpatient hospital stays, care in a skilled nursing facility after a qualifying hospital stay, hospice care, and some home health care.
Part B Medical Insurance	Helps pay for doctor visits, outpatient care, lab tests, preventive services such as screenings and many vaccines, durable medical equipment, and some home health care.
Part C Medicare Advantage	Plans are offered by private insurance companies approved by Medicare. They combine Part A and Part B coverage, and most also include Part D prescription drug coverage. Some offer extra benefits such as routine dental, vision, or hearing care. Costs, provider networks, and rules vary by plan.
Part D Prescription Drug Coverage	Helps pay for outpatient prescription drugs. It is offered through private plans approved by Medicare, either as a stand-alone plan or as part of a Medicare Advantage plan.

What Original Medicare generally does not cover

Original Medicare (Parts A and B) generally does not cover long-term custodial care, most routine dental care and dentures, routine eye exams and eyeglasses, hearing aids, or most care received outside the United States. You also pay deductibles, coinsurance, and copayments, and Original Medicare has no annual out-of-pocket maximum. Some people buy a Medicare Supplement (Medigap) policy from a private insurer to help pay these costs.

The amounts you pay under Medicare change every year. For current costs and a full list of covered services, visit http://www.medicare.gov/.

Who is eligible for Medicare?

You are generally eligible for Medicare if you are a U.S. citizen or a lawfully admitted permanent resident who has lived in the U.S. for at least five years, and one of the following applies:

- You are age 65 or older.
- You are under 65 and have received Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefits for 24 months.
- You have End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), which is permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant.
- You have Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS, or Lou Gehrig's disease). Medicare coverage begins the same month SSDI benefits begin.

When can you enroll?

- Initial Enrollment Period: This is a seven-month window. It begins three months before the month you turn 65, includes your birthday month, and ends three months after it.
- Automatic enrollment: If you already receive Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits when you become eligible, you will usually be enrolled in Parts A and B automatically.
- Special Enrollment Period: If you are covered by a group health plan through your own or your spouse's current employment, you may be able to delay Part B without a penalty. You can then enroll during the eight months after that employment or coverage ends, whichever comes first.
- Medicare Open Enrollment (also called the Annual Enrollment Period, or AEP) happens every year from October 15 through December 7. Any changes you make take effect on January 1 of the following year.
- General Enrollment Period: January 1 through March 31 each year, for people who missed their other enrollment opportunities. Coverage begins the month after you enroll, and late enrollment penalties may apply.

Things to consider before you enroll or delay

- Late enrollment penalties can be permanent. If you delay Part B or Part D without other qualifying coverage, you may pay higher premiums for as long as you have Medicare.
- COBRA and retiree coverage do not count as coverage based on current employment. Delaying Part B while on COBRA or retiree coverage may lead to a penalty and a gap in coverage.
- Health Savings Accounts (HSAs): Once you enroll in any part of Medicare, including Part A, you can no longer contribute to an HSA. Part A coverage can be retroactive for up to six months when you enroll after age 65. Talk with a tax advisor before you enroll.

HSA PLANS

Health Savings Account (HSA)

If you enroll in the $5,000 High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP), you are eligible to open a Health Savings Account (HSA) with Optum Bank.

A Health Savings Account (HSA) is a plan designed to help you manage rising healthcare costs by setting aside money to pay for out-of-pocket medical expenses and to save for retirement. You can think of it as a personal savings account for medical expenses. HSAs are employee-owned, meaning you take the HSA with you if you change employers. Unused funds will earn interest and can be invested (once you reach a certain balance) until they are withdrawn for eligible expenses or at retirement. You set aside money on a pre-tax basis: as long as you use the money for eligible expenses, you won't pay income taxes on it.

Unlike a Flexible Spending Account, there is no "use-it-or-lose-it" rule. You do not lose your money if you don't spend it in the calendar year and there are no vesting requirements or forfeiture provisions. The account will automatically roll over year after year. Since it is an individual account, if you change health plans or jobs, the balance is yours to keep.

Optum Bank HSA:

https://www.optumbank.com/health-accounts/hsa.html

Are you eligible to open and contribute to an HSA?

- You are covered by a High Deductible Health Plan (HDHP)
- You are not covered under another medical plan that is not an HDHP
- You are not enrolled in Medicare benefits
- You cannot be claimed on another person's tax return
- You have not received VA benefits in the last three months
- You are not participating in any healthcare FSA (i.e. spouse's healthcare FSA)

How to contribute to an HSA

1. Elect the HSA in Paylocity during Open Enrollment
2. Choose your annual election amount
3. After your effective date, you can then create an online account with Optum and download the mobile app

Once you've enrolled and set your annual election amount, that amount will be payroll deducted pre-tax in equal increments throughout the year. You can change your annual election amount within the IRS limits anytime throughout the year without a qualifying event. Contact the HR Team to make changes. Post-tax contributions can also be made outside of payroll deductions as long as it does not surpass the annual IRS limits for that year. You are responsible for stopping your contributions once you reach the IRS maximum for the year. Please note, if you leave employment and don't close your account, you may face account fees.

Any unused funds in your HSA will roll over at the end of the year and will continue to earn interest and can be invested until they are withdrawn for medical expenses or until you turn 65 years old, when you can withdraw funds for any reason without incurring penalties.

2027 contribution limits & employer contribution

2027 maximum contribution

The annual contribution maximum is based on the coverage option you elect.

Individual	$4,500
Family (filing jointly)	$9,000

Employees age 55 and older are allowed to make an additional annual "catch-up" contribution of up to $1,000.

2027 CNS Cares HSA contribution

Employer contribution, up to $250 annually.

Individual	$250
Family	$250

CNS Cares will contribute $10.42 bi-weekly for 24 paychecks (up to $250 annually). The employer contribution will be prorated according to the date/month of coverage start date.

Optimizing your HSA

If enrolled in the $5,000 HDHP Medical Plan, you may be able to benefit from one of the best tax breaks available: the health savings account (HSA). It pays to find out whether you're eligible to contribute to an HSA and the three ways to maximize its "triple tax benefits."

- Contributions reduce your taxable income without having to itemize deductions.
- Growth of the account is tax-deferred.
- Distributions for qualified medical expenses, for you and your family, are tax-free.

Unlike Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs), the funds in an HSA are not "use-it-or-lose-it." They roll over from year to year, and the account is yours even if you change employers or health plans.

Dental insurance explained

Dental insurance

A contract with an insurance company that helps cover the cost of treatments to your teeth and gums. Instead of you paying 100% of the cost out-of-pocket, dental insurance pays a percentage and you pay the rest. There are 3 common categories of dental insurance: preventive, basic and major.

Preventive care

Preventive care aims to "prevent" wear and tear, gum disease and tooth loss. Routine visits allow your dentist to examine your mouth, jaw and neck to identify problems and treat them early. Common services covered under preventive care include bi-annual cleanings, oral screenings and routine X-rays.

Basic care

Basic care treats minor-to-medium damage that has already happened, like toothaches and gum issues. Common services covered under basic care include fillings, tooth extractions, root canals and gum disease treatment.

Major care

Complex dental work, including surgical procedures, is typically classified as major dental care. These services can range from crowns and implants to dentures and oral surgery.

Vision insurance explained

Vision insurance is a specialized insurance plan that focuses on eye health and vision needs.

Most plans will cover routine eye exams and assist with the purchase of corrective vision products such as glasses and contacts.

Vision plans do much more than just pay for glasses; they help to preserve overall eye health. A routine eye exam looks at total eye health and includes a plan to help your eyes stay healthy.

Disability Coverage

CNS Cares provides eligible employees with the opportunity to purchase voluntary short-term disability income benefits through Guardian, and employees pay 100% of the premiums.

Short-term disability

In the event you become disabled from a non-work-related injury or sickness, disability income protection benefits are provided as a source of income. You are not eligible to receive disability benefits if you are receiving workers' compensation benefits. Disability benefits protect your paycheck and replace a portion of your income if an injury or illness forces you out of work for an extended period of time.

The Short-Term Disability policy through Guardian includes a pre-existing condition exclusion. You have a pre-existing condition if you received medical treatment, consultation, care or services including diagnostic measures, or took prescribed drugs or medicines in the 3 months just prior to your effective date of coverage; and the disability begins in the first 6 months after your effective date of coverage.

Plan features

- Benefits begin 14 days following illness or accident
- Maximum benefit period: up to 24 weeks
- Percentage of income replaced: 60% of pre-disability weekly earnings
- Weekly benefit: $1,500
